

JA223

	This course is a second foreign language course for English major students. Through four semesters this course is to help students master basic Japanese grammar systematically, and develop their comprehensive abilities in using Japanese and cross-cultural communication competence by strict basic skills training (listening, speaking, reading, writing, translating); Also, it helps to enrich the culture knowledge of students in Japanese society, and train the students' ability of logical thinking as well as their comprehension about other culture. The foreign language talents with broad visions can be cultivated for the society through the learning of this course as well. At the beginning, students are required to have a thorough grasp of the basic grammar and the words of the vocabulary(total 2900 words) as well as phrases. Through the learning of essays in different genres, students can basically understand the different writing methods and features, meanwhile, deepen their comprehension of the textbook, and richen their background knowledge of Japanese culture. The third semester's course is elective, and will be shortened to two sessions, so the course will go faster.

	2005-4 1					